What is a battery management system (BMS)?

Our Battery Management System (BMS) solutions provide state-of-the-art battery measurement and protection performance along with multiple interface and configuration options to reduce its integration effort to any battery architecture and use case.

What is electric vehicle battery management system (BMS)?

An electric vehicle battery management system (BMS) is a system intended to monitor and control the charging, health, and power levels of an electric vehicle's battery. Panasonic is a well-known producer of such systems.

What makes EMUs BMS different from other battery management systems?

That is where EMUS BMS stands out in the market - it provides highly modular and flexible battery management system topology (Distributed, Centralized or even mixed) for almost any voltage and current (discharge) ranges, which allows to match customer's application requirements precisely.

Who uses Maxwell battery management system (BMS)?

Maxwell battery management system (BMS) is used by OEMs and battery makers. In addition to the US, it is already serving India, France, Spain, and over 70 car OEMs and battery pack manufacturers.

What does BMS stand for?

We develop and manufacture total solutions of Lithium-ion Battery Packs and also analog battery management systems or Protection Circuit Module (BMS/PCM), Digital Battery Management System (BMS), Battery Thermal Management Systems (BTMS), Battery Charger and customized battery packs for Li-ion batteries.

What is Sensata's i-BMS battery management system?

Sensata Technologies' i-BMS battery management system is a new integrated solution for electric vehicles and other applications up to 60V. Sensata Technologies launched it.
